

You are nationally and internationally marketing technical products of high quality? Then, you should use the special packaging solutions and the full service of THIMM SCHERTLER Verpackungssysteme. We are specialised in packagings made of multi-materials and offer services ranging from the development of packagings and co-packing to demand-oriented logistic solutions.

High-quality solutions from A to Z. On the way to its destination your product has to achieve highest performance. We develop complete packaging and logistic solutions that perfectly protect the product and make the distribution channel processes efficient. We will realise your demands in an individual way: by means of automated or manual production or a combination of both production methods. From short runs to bulk orders.

Unlimited know-how. We support you directly on site. Together with you and our network partners we develop individual site solutions nearby or carry out packaging jobs at your company. For this purpose, we provide our diversified sector know-how: e.g. we offer you our experience in tailor-made special packagings in the field of environmental, medical, measurement and control technology, electronics, automotive industry and automotive suppliers.

Material at customer's option. We come up with a perfect concept for the protection and transportation of your products. This includes high-tech solutions even for heavy goods packages such as our quadruple wall corrugated cardboard RhinoPlate® which withstands extremely high loads. We schedule, purchase and use exactly those materials you need: ranging from corrugated cardboard and solid board to wood, steel or plastic. In combination with high-quality foam cushionings, ESD packagings, corrosion protection solutions we can compose the best possible material mixture for your products.

Full sales service. We offer special sales and packaging services, i.e. co-packing, procurement management as well as packing services and delivery of all relevant components to your site or to your customer's site. One-stop packaging and logistics – tailor-made for your demands.
